Abstract Title:

- An abstract must have a short, specific title that clearly identifies the nature of the study.
- Abstract titles that identify presenting institution, authors or geographic area will be disqualified.
- The title must be entered with all capital letters, no bolding or italicizing.

Author and Affiliation Information: List the presenting author as the Primary author, then any additional authors and senior author last. Please list corresponding affiliation for each.

Abstract Body: The abstract is limited to 400 words including title, authors and affiliation.

The text should include:

- 1) A sentence stating the purpose of the study
 - 2) A brief description of methods
 - 3) A summary of results with sample size and statistical results as appropriate
 - 4) A statement of conclusions reached. Do not state that the "results will be discussed"
- Single cases reports are acceptable, but are low priority, unless exceptionally innovative or informative
 - Abbreviations should conform to the Style Manual for Biological Journals (American Institute of Biological Sciences, 3900 Wisconsin Avenue, Washington, DC 20016)
 - Place nonstandard abbreviations in parentheses after the full word the first time it appears
 - Non-proprietary (generic) drug names are required (lower case) the first time mentioned, e.g. furosemide. Proprietary drug names should be capitalized, e.g. furosemide (Lasix)

AWARDS

Young Investigator Award

The YI Awards – ALL authors must complete a non-disclosure form upon acceptance.

Objective: The purpose of the Young Investigator Award is to underscore the importance of furthering research in the area of wound healing by recognizing and rewarding top young researchers, and by facilitating the presentation and scientific discussion of new discoveries.

Award amount: Awardees can receive up to $500 to help defray the costs of attending the Biophysical Control of Wound Healing - Science of Healing of Wounds.

Qualifications:

1. Must be Young Investigators. Young Investigators are considered undergraduate, graduate or professional (PhD, MD, DDS, DVM) students and fellows (post-PhD, residents, specialty trainees).
2. Must be first author of the submitted abstract.
3. Multiple finalists from a single lab may be considered provided there is not significant overlap of projects.

Selection criteria:

1. The Program Committee will review and rank all abstracts submitted for acceptance and presentation at the meeting for travel award to Young Investigators.
2. Presentation awards will be selected during the meeting. Multiple finalists from a single laboratory may be considered provided that there is not significant overlap between projects. Five senior attendees to vote for the best young investigator (poster/oral)

Poster presentation award

Four poster presentation award recipients will be selected to receive an additional $500, or $250 award and a certificate in recognition of the high quality of his or her work and award.
