Share your research, education, technology and clinical efforts at the 2nd Annual UC Davis Human Genomics Forum by submitting a clinical or scientific abstract. Everyone is welcome to submit abstracts and attend, including UC Davis partners.

Plan on attending the 2nd Annual Human Genomics Forum on November 13, 2015. Poster presentations, keynote speakers and podium talks will help connect the greater UC Davis community and promote collaboration and advancement of our work in the field of human genomics.

The field of human genomics is dynamic and evolving quickly at UC Davis. By connecting with one another across disciplines and practices we will be better prepared to navigate through the changing environment.
