

September 2021

LCME Timeline

Faculty Development

UC Davis School of Medicine is committed to ensuring that faculty members are qualified through their education, training, experience and continue professional development in order to provide the leadership and support necessary to meet the institutions educational, research and service goals. See below for a list of upcoming faculty development courses and resources:

- Continuing Medical Education (CME) offers many online courses, including on-demand coursework to support clinicians preparing to transition from residency to practice:
 - 12 Tips for Teaching Clinical Reasoning
 - Addressing Microaggressions in the Health Professions Learning Environment
 - Clinical Microteaching: Breaking it Down
 - Conflict Management in Clinical Care
 - Professionalism for Faculty and Residents
 - Understanding How Stereotype Threat Impacts Health Professions Students
 - You can also view CME's education calendar for courses and regularly scheduled education (grand rounds, journal clubs, M&Ms, etc.)
- Interprofessional Teaching Scholars Program is a unique two-year faculty development program focusing on enhancing the knowledge, skills and attitudes of faculty in health professions education and promotes the development of change agents and educational leaders who will affect the culture of education. Below are a few of the offered classes:
 - Fundamentals of Teaching and Learning, Interprofessional Education
 - Writing Learning Objectives and Creating Blueprint
 - Curriculum Development: Classes, Courses and Programs
 - Assessment and Evaluation of Learning and Programs
 - Education Equity and Inclusive Classrooms
 - Principles of Learner-Centered Teaching
 - Student Advocacy, Mentoring and Mitigating Mistreatment
 - The application period for the 2021-22 cohort is open through September 15!
- Diversity and Inclusion offerings and resources:
 - Race and Medicine in Clinical Practice
 - Addressing Microaggressions in the Health Environment
 - Professionalism in the Health Environment
 - SEED: Supporting Educational Excellence in Diversity
 - Enhanced Training for Faculty Search Committee Members
- Center for Educational Effectiveness (CEE) (campus)
 - CEE offers a variety of consultation types to provide you with feedback on your teaching, strategies to achieve your teaching goals and instructional resources.
 - Attend a workshop to learn about evidence-based teaching strategies
 - Engage in assessment to build capacity for sustainable outcomes assessment practices which improve student learning and support evidence-informed decision-making

Did You Know?

Did you know that Standard 4 in the Data Collection Instrument (DCI) recognizes the benefits of faculty development and asks schools to highlight their programs? You can find out more information about Faculty Development on their website, including trainings, resources and online offerings for educators as well as events offered through their calendar.

I-EXPLORE
UPDATE

Meet the new I-EXPLORE Faculty Educators for the pre-clerkship and clerkship curricula!

REMINDERS

- We will launch a second student survey to measure progress on the ISA areas of concern in Oct 2021.
- The virtual Mock Site Visit is scheduled for October 12-14, 2021.
- We will submit our institutional accreditation materials to the LCME in November 2021.
- The virtual Site Visit is scheduled for February 28 – March 2, 2022!

For more information on LCME, please visit our accreditation website