As a family practice physician, Dr. Chek enjoys and has the opportunity to take care of an entire family in treating and preventing disease. She believes that getting to know her patients, so that she knows them as a person, is a key element in better patient care. Hence, this is why she takes the time to listen to her patients, because when it comes down to it, they know their body best. She gives them the relevant information which allows them to be proactive and to be a part of their own treatment plan. She treats her patients as if they are her family and work together as a team. By the end of a visit, her goal is for her patients to feel comfortable and well informed with the decision that was made.
