

Michael Tan Sim, M.D.

Philosophy of Care	I believe that the physician and patient should develop a trusting relationship so that we can work together as a team to make informed decisions. My goal is to help someone make the choices that will lead to their best health and quality of life.
Clinical Interests	Dr. Sim is a general nephrologist (kidney specialist) who focuses his care on adults with chronic kidney disease which is frequently caused by diabetes mellitus and high blood pressure. He helps with managing the care of patients after kidney transplant.
